ABOUT VSSN

VSSN - the Voluntary Sector Studies Network - functions to promote the advancement of knowledge about, and understanding of, organisations between the market and the state. It provides a virtual and actual meeting point for scholars and researchers both outside and within the voluntary (third or non-profit) sector(s), with a shared analytic interest in this set of institutions. It is multidisciplinary, seeking to engage economists, historians, political scientists, sociologists, policy analysts and others. It aspires to a UK wide focus.

You do not have to be a formal member of VSSN to attend VSSN seminars or take part in the e-mail discussion list.

However, if you are involved on an ongoing basis in research activities related to the UK voluntary sector, you will find much benefit in becoming a member of VSSN. This means:

- reduced rates to our Day Conferences (members £30; member concessionary rate £20 / non-members £60)
- a free subscription to Voluntary Sector Review
- an annual vote in the election of Trustees
- an annual vote in the election of the Journal Editorial Board
- stand as a candidate in the above elections
- appear in the online membership directory and network interactively with others
- entry in the online courses guide
- and you are giving support to VSSN's objectives

Organisational subscriptions are based on the academic year (1 Oct – 30 Sept) and are set in bands according to personal income as shown. (If joining after 1 April in any academic year, the subscription will cover you for the following academic year as well.)

To join, please complete the form opposite and return it to the Executive Officer at the address shown – or it may be handed in at any VSSN event. Or, if preferred, you can join online at www.vssn.org.uk/join and just send the subscription by post.

Any queries? Please contact Louise Cole, VSSN Executive Officer at execofficer@vssn.org.uk or tel. 0161 275 5313.
